the european neighbourhood policy enp was initially intended to create a ring of friends surrounding the union from morocco to russia and the black sea prodi 2002 today however the ever worsening security situation in the region clearly shows that the aim has not been achieved with wars in ukraine syria and libya the union s neighbourhood can therefore better be described as a ring of fire does this means that the policy has failed and that an alternative policy towards the eu s neighbours is needed or should these developments be seen as temporary setbacks caused by external factors beyond

fact finding is at the heart of human rights advocacy and is often at the center of international controversies about alleged government abuses in recent years human rights fact finding has greatly proliferated and become more sophisticated and complex while also being subjected to stronger scrutiny from governments nevertheless despite the prominence of fact finding it remains strikingly under studied and under theorized too little has been done to bring forth the assumptions methodologies and techniques of this rapidly developing field or to open human rights fact finding to critical and constructive scrutiny the transformation of human rights fact finding offers a multidisciplinary approach to the study of fact finding with rigorous and critical analysis of the field of practice while providing a range of accounts of what actually happens it deepens the study and practice of human rights investigations and fosters fact finding as a discretely studied topic while mapping crucial transformations in the field the contributions to this book are the result of a major international conference organized by new york university law school s center for human rights and global justice engaging the expertise and experience of the editors and contributing authors it offers a broad approach encompassing contemporary issues and analysis across the human rights spectrum in law international relations and critical theory this book addresses the major areas of human rights fact finding such as victim and witness issues fact finding for advocacy enforcement and litigation the role of interdisciplinary expertise and methodologies crowd sourcing social media and big data and international guidelines for fact finding
